DESCRIPTION

The Coastal 12 Rada is a 12-meter Maxi RIB designed by Francesco Guida (Guida Design) for KOA srl.

This vessel seamlessly blends design, comfort, and performance, powered by Mercury R-Racing engines, each delivering 450 hp (450 hours of operation).

Comfort and Layout

The spacious side decks ensure safe movement around the vessel.

At the stern, the dinette with an equipped bar unit and separate tables transforms into a large sunbathing area.

At the bow, a chaise longue and a second convertible dinette area provide maximum comfort at any time.

Interiors

The cabin features an open space design with a king-size bed and chaise longue, alongside a separate bathroom from the sleeping area.

The furnishings, all crafted in Italy, are modern and of high quality, showcasing the shipyard's dedication to excellence.

Performance and Safety

Powered by two Mercury R-Racing outboard engines, each with 450 hp, the Coastal 12 Rada offers impressive power and agility.

The monohull design, with a deep V and longitudinal strakes, combined with careful weight distribution on deck, ensures stability and excellent sea-keeping abilities at high speeds and in all conditions. The helm station is sheltered, providing excellent visibility and enough space for three persons.
